Paul's Masterpiece on Grace

Is Romans one of your favorite books in the Bible? If not, then you do not have a revelation of the true Gospel. That's a strong statement, but I believe I'm justified in making it. Romans is a powerful, powerful book.

When I first got really turned on to the Lord back in 1968, I was at a church meeting, and I heard a man say that if you could understand the first eight or nine chapters of Romans, it would cause you to become a mature Christian. That caught my attention.

To understand the book of Romans, the first things you need to know are who wrote the book and why. The Apostle Paul wrote this as a letter to the church in Rome. At the time he wrote it, he had never been to Rome, but Paul wrote to the Romans because their faith had been spoken of throughout the world.

However, something was beginning to happen in Rome that Paul needed to address. At this time, the church was a mixture of Jewish people and Gentiles, and some of the Jewish people had begun to influence new believers in Rome to go back under the covenant of the law. They had believed in Jesus, but they wanted the New Testament believers to go back and observe all the Old Testament law. Paul wrote this book to show them the differences between New Testament and Old Testament ideas.

I believe Romans is Paul's masterpiece. He explains how God deals with us in a brand-new way—through mercy and grace instead of based on our performance and keeping of the law.

This is a huge difference. When we grasp the concepts of the New Covenant, it will transform our lives. Many people today who have come to the Lord have then gone to church and gotten involved in religion, developing a performance-based mentality as a result. This keeps us from receiving from God, and it causes a lot of guilt and condemnation. As a result, many people don't walk in the freedom God intended for us.

Paul makes an important statement in Romans 1:16:

I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ.

Today, people apply the word Gospel to many different things. I've even seen some preachers use the word in the context of screaming at people, condemning them, and telling them that they're going to hell. It's true that there is a heaven and a hell, and if people don't accept Jesus, they're going to hell—but that is not the Gospel.

The word Gospel was seldom used in Paul's time. It literally means Good News, but it's more than that. The word Gospel here is referring to the nearly too-good-to-be-true news—the radically Good News that doesn't apply to anything except what Jesus came to do for us through His death and resurrection, taking our sins away.

When Paul announced that he was not ashamed of the Gospel, he was opposing the religion of his day, which didn't have any Good News in it. In fact, it was very oppressive. The religious leaders even counted out how many steps you could take on a sabbath day. They accused Jesus of breaking the sabbath when he healed people. Their lives were full of laws and rituals. People were constantly being told, "You're wrong here, you're wrong there, you can't do enough." Second Corinthians 3:7–9 calls the law a ministration of condemnation and death.

For Paul to say that he was not ashamed of the Good News—that Jesus paid everything, and that God's love for him was not based on his performance—was radical. Paul went on to write in Romans 1:16:

For it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

This verse has another word that needs explanation: salvation. This word has been cheapened from what it originally meant. The word salvation is translated from the Greek word sozo. As it is used in the Bible, it's not limited to the forgiveness of sins. It includes that, but also much more. Sozo literally refers to not only the forgiveness of sins, but the healing of your body; your prosperity; and deliverance from Satan, depression, and discouragement—all these things are included. Sad to say, but the church today has broken down salvation to mean only the forgiveness of sins.

Paul explained that this awesome gift of salvation—forgiveness, healing, prosperity, joy, and deliverance—has nothing to do with our performance, but is based on our faith in what Jesus did. The burden of salvation is no longer on our back.

This contrasted with the Jewish people's mindset, which was: If I don't perform, God won't move. These days, most people wouldn't consider themselves to be like the Jewish people of Paul's day, yet we still see these same mindsets and behaviors.

Today, the average Christian believes that God can do anything—He can perform miracles, He can heal, He can provide finances—but they don't know for sure that He will because they believe that God's power being demonstrated in their lives is dependent upon their goodness, whether they fasted, prayed, studied the Word, and so on. They doubt God's willingness because they know in their own hearts they haven't done everything correctly.

If this expresses your attitude, then you don't understand the Gospel. The Gospel is the nearly too-good-to-be-true news that you don't get what you deserve—you get what Jesus deserved. All you have to do is believe and receive. You have to get beyond your self-righteousness and trust God.

I'm out of space, but there's a lot more on Romans that I have to share that would change your life. I tell you, understanding grace is so important for believers. Healing Is Here

Healing Is for You!

She defeated cancer...

Nduta, Margaret Wainaina is a national from Kenya and lives in Nairobi. She is a partner with Andrew Wommack Ministries, Uganda. Her testimony of God's healing power in her life is a proof that God is still in the business of healing people from all kinds of sickness and disease, you name it. Truly, God wants us well.

In August 2020, Margaret was diagnosed with a terminal disease of stage 4 cancer. She had her hair falling off. This can be an excruciating experience for an individual. Such was Margaret's ordeal.

Now, her miracle began the day she started listening to Andrew's teachings. This prompted her to further make enquiries about the ministry and she found out that there was an office in Kampala, Uganda. Margaret when sharing her testimony said, a lady from the Partner's Relations Office whose name she cannot recall, prayed for her on the phone. This was very encouraging to her. Not too long, her healing was reinforced. Hallelujah!

In excitement, she called to testify how she is a living testimony and a walking miracle. She is totally healed from stage 4 cancer and her hair which was falling off has grown back to about two inches. She now walks in divine healing and health. To the glory of God, Margaret finally defeated stage 4 cancer. This only can be God.

Healed of covid-19...

Ronald's healing

My name is Sempebwa Ronald, I am a 1st year Hybrid student of Charis Bible College Uganda. I am testifying of God's healing on my family during this pandemic. A month ago, I realized some of my colleagues I work with and do ministry together had tested positive of Covid-19. Around this time, we had been studying about "Healing" by Barry Bennett, an instructor of Charis Bible College, Colorado. Through this teaching, I became steadfast in my faith. I also maintained a positive confession using scriptures that I am already healed. This worked for me even when at times I felt corona symptoms.

One day I returned home and two of my kids had high temperatures above 39.2 degrees. I knew the devil had attacked, knowing well it is God's will for us to be healthy. Nevertheless, we visited a clinic in our town. They received treatment from the doctors, but I always remembered Isaiah 26:3, "those whose eyes are stayed on the Lord shall be in perfect peace". I refused to fear. The following day my wife called and was experiencing fatigue and high fevers, and it needed us to visit the hospital. She tested positive and this caused me to embark on the journey of putting all my weapons of mass destruction to use.

I got the medication, later in the day when everyone had gone to sleep, I opened my Charis notes and searched for scriptures for the hour. Miraculously, in two to three days my kids became energetic, playing all around. Then after a week and some days, my wife was totally healed. She began to eat again, breathing better and went to the kitchen to make for us a meal. Praise and glory be to God.

Brenda: "It was so scary, as at some point I thought I was going to die. But I kept quoting the promises of God."

I am Brenda Onyango and I live in Kampala. I am a third-year student of Charis Bible College, Uganda. I want to thank God of His goodness upon my life and family. Just recently when the lockdown was announced by the president, my three children were diagnosed of having COVID-19. It was a frightening experience as my husband wasn't around at the time, since he works outside the country. I had to do all the running around. Now more frightening was when I also tested positive with the disease. I was taken to the ICU and placed on oxygen. It was so scary, at some point I thought I was going to die. But I kept quoting the promises of God. At some point I didn't have the energy to speak or remember any scripture. It was the scriptures in my subconscious that kept me going. Today, I am healed and living in divine health with all my family intact. I never lost any one of them to covid. We are fine and basking in God's goodness. I want to bless God for Andrew Wommack Ministries and Charis Bible College. Indeed, the word works. Glory be to God!

What does it mean to be merry? Last year I felt like the Lord said, “Teach on how to truly be merry, not only during Christmas, but in all seasons.” Instead of a fake version of trying to be happy, we will understand the real benefit of living with a merry heart.

Often, we obsess over establishing a perfect environment. Still, with things going on in our culture, some people have become unemployed, or some of you have been dealing with friends and family members that have passed away. Or maybe the economic impact has affected you. There’s just a lot going on, and it may be far from perfect.

Proverbs 17:22 (NKJV) says, “A merry heart does good, like a medicine, But a broken spirit [dries up] the bones.” A merry heart is going to do us good. When someone has a broken spirit, it doesn’t just affect their inner man; it also affects their outer man. It’s incredible how things on the inside affect us in every regard.

Now, look at Proverbs 4:23 (NKJV), “Keep your heart with all diligence, For out of it spring the issues of life.” All the issues of life come from the heart! So, we cannot ignore these issues and expect to experience abundant life. But we can deal with these issues according to the Spirit and the Word of God.

Jesus came to bring healing to every single area of brokenness we may be experiencing, whether mental or emotional. Your heart matters to God! He’s for you, not against you. He will lead you into truth and help you be transformed so that you can really experience His will in every area of your life.

I love 1 John 3:20–21 (NKJV). It says, “For if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. ²¹Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence toward God.”

When you’ve got some issues of the heart that need to be dealt with, whether the enemy is trying to bring condemnation into your life or you’re doing a good job of condemning yourself, we discover that God is even greater than that.

Even when our circumstances aren’t lining up, we can still live with a heart that does not need to be troubled because it’s about the grace extended to us through God’s Spirit living inside of us. We are the very containers of the presence of God!

God has promised us that we can live with a merry heart, and He’s promised us life more abundantly (Heb. 10:36). We don’t have to conform to depression, fear, and craziness in our culture. God has not designed us to live that way.

When we apply the Word of God to our lives it causes us to have a merry heart. I want you to live with a merry heart so that you can really celebrate the grace of God in your life from the inside out. GT
