Don't Limit God: 20 Years Later

Twenty years ago, on January 31, 2002, God spoke something to me that transformed my life. This was the second most important encounter with the Lord I've ever had. He told me that I was limiting Him with my small thinking. God's words to me were based on Psalm 78:40-41.

How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert! Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel.

These verses refer to the children of Israel who came out of Egypt and continually murmured and complained and rebelled against God. With their attitudes, they limited God and the miracles He had for them. God never intended them to spend forty years wandering in the desert.

So, after God spoke to me, I made the decision that I was going to take the limits off of Him and believe big. One of the first things I did was hold a meeting with my staff to let them know of my change of heart. I told them, "I don't know how long it's going to take to change this image on the inside, but I've been limiting God, and I'm going to take the limits off. I'm going to believe God big, and we are going to see change happen." And I wrote a letter to my partners to notify them.

Since then, the changes that have occurred in my ministry have been incredible. The difference between my ministry today and twenty years ago is phenomenal. I'm sharing all the amazing things God has done in my ministry, not to give myself credit and pat myself on the back, but to praise God, to demonstrate that what I'm talking about works and is not just theory, and to encourage you.

I'll highlight the main changes we've seen. Back in 2002, we had 23 employees. Today, we have 987 employees worldwide. It takes 43 times more staff to minister and meet the needs of people now than it did twenty years ago. My television show covered just 3 percent of the U.S. population, and today, we cover over 3.2 billion people in 13 different languages worldwide. We had a budget of $50,000 per month for television. Today, our budget is $1.25 million per month for television. Back in 2002, we received 24,000 calls per year. In 2021, we answered 675,000 calls. Our building had 14,600 square feet on 2 acres of land, and we now have 620,000 square feet of building space and 493 acres of land. I believe God has positioned us to be able to expand Charis Bible College even more in the foreseeable future.

Again, I mention all this in gratitude to God and to show the difference it makes when you stop limiting God. I've known for over fifty years that God's purpose in my life was to reach people around the world with the Gospel. Twenty years ago, I was moving in the direction of having a worldwide ministry, but I was just inching along. At the rate I was going, it probably wouldn't have happened in my lifetime.

But after God spoke to me and I decided to take the limits off, things began to change. One of the most important things I want to emphasize is the change that happened on the inside of me. My attitude completely changed. My small thinking had hindered God and had acted like a dam to God's plans for my life. When my attitude changed, it was like that dam broke loose and allowed God's blessings to flow through to me. The breakthroughs that have come over the last twenty years have been absolutely miraculous.

Sad to say, the vast majority of the body of Christ limits God. Many people have this misconception that ministers have this special relationship with God that the average person just can't have. People with this mindset are saved and stuck. They're waiting until they go to heaven before they see change. I disagree with this 100 percent. I believe that anything God has done in my life, He'll do for others. Romans 2:11 tells us God is no respecter of persons. I'm not saying He'll do exactly for you what He did for me, but if you take the limits off and begin to dream big, then whatever your lane is—whatever God has called you to do—will be big.

I don't believe God has ever made a piece of junk. He's never made a failure. He's never made somebody to just occupy space and do nothing. God created all of us with a special plan. Psalm 139:14 reminds us of this:

I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made; marvelous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.

God did not plan for anyone to experience failure and heartbreak. Those things come because we live in a fallen world, and we've got an enemy that's fighting against us. But God has a good plan for you. He didn't plan for you to not make a difference. In your area of influence, you should see miraculous things happen. It's imperative that you find out what God's purpose for your life is and then pursue it with abandon.

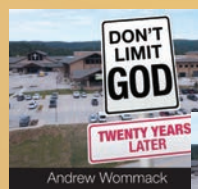

I've introduced this topic here, but you need to get the full teaching. You might not even realize the ways in which you're limiting God. I guarantee it will make a huge difference in your life when you begin to see how to stop limiting Him.

We're offering the Don't Limit God: 20 Years Later teaching as a CD or DVD series. You can also get the original Don't Limit God book and study guide in English or Spanish. And we're giving away a Don't Limit God static cling sticker that you can put on your mirror as a reminder that God wants to do big things in your life. Junaid and Kelly-Anne Esau Joining us at AWM as the new Directors

Dear Partner,

We want to thank you for partnering with Andrew Wommack Ministries and Charis Bible College. Together we are making a huge difference in taking the Gospel as far and as deep as possible. It is a great honor for us to serve the people of Uganda as a family.

We are thankful to Andrew and the leadership of Andrew Wommack Ministries for entrusting us with such a great responsibility, one we are wholly reliant on the Lord in guiding us in. We are also very grateful to Rich Kanyali, the previous Director, he stewarded the ministry well here in Uganda and has left his responsibility of Directing Andrew Wommack Ministries Uganda and Charis Bible College Kampala in a place that can only mean great growth going forward.

We are grateful to have inherited an awesome team in Uganda who work hard daily to see the vision of AWM and Charis realized in our nation. Our partner relations team really reflect the heart of thankfulness to our partners well. We'll always have room to improve, but from what I've seen I believe we have the heart for it.

We are believing that the ministry here in Uganda will be influential in impacting the city of Kampala, the nation, this region of Africa, Africa and the World. It's in the simplicity of the Gospel of the Grace of Christ and receiving it by faith, that we see this happening.

It's the simple things that the Lord has given us that ultimately make the difference, whatever those simple things may be, when God is in it, you can slay a giant and bring a nation to the Lord. It is difficult to imagine with the human mind that a stone in a sling can get through the skull of a giant.

The system of the world may mock at our stone, but when God is behind your stone like we believe He was with David, it can do wonders.

We are excited to be in the beautiful country of Uganda and we are so grateful for how we've been made to feel welcome. We are so honoured to be a part of what God is doing in this wonderful nation! Much love

Junaid and Kelly-Anne Esau.

Decisions That Change Your Destiny

Daniel Bennett, Executive Director of Charis Education

Daniel Bennett grew up on the mission field and has had a heart for ministry ever since. He has served in the Air Force, been a missionary in Nicaragua and Russia, and worked at multiple Charis Bible College campuses. He graduated from Charis in 2009 and from the University of Colorado Colorado Springs in 2012. Daniel currently serves as the executive director of Charis education. He and his wife, Ashley, love being part of a ministry that is changing lives around the world.

Daniel is one of the speakers at Campus Days 2022, taking place April 6–8 at Charis Bible College Woodland Park.

There are times in life when we all face decisions that will change our destiny. For example, being born again is a decision that will change our eternal destiny. There are also decisions that will change the course of our lives in this world.

For example, Isaiah 6:8 says, “I heard the voice of the Lord, saying: ‘Whom shall I send, And who will go for Us?’ Then I said, ‘Here am I! Send me!’”(NKJV).

When he said, “Send me, Lord!” Isaiah made a huge decision. When we have those moments that are life-changing, how can we be sure we are making the right decisions? I’d like to share with you the four ingredients to decision-making that will change your destiny.

The first ingredient is to have an exciting goal. Not just any goal, but an exciting goal—a goal that is exciting to you, not just to others. My encouragement to you is to be curious. God can use your curiosity in powerful ways. He can take your sense of awe and wonder and lead you to discover new things.

The second ingredient is to know where you are. Ephesians 2:6 says you’re seated with Christ in heavenly places. That’s where you are. You need to know where you are because if you don’t, you won’t know how to get where you want to go, even if you’re absolutely clear about where you want to go.

The third ingredient is to commit.

Commitment is huge. It’s easy to say what you think is most important, but you must actually be committed. A true priority list should define that to which you are committed more than anything else. Having priorities and commitments changes how we live our lives.

Let’s imagine that those first three ingredients are used to make a cake. After you make the cake, you put that final ingredient on it—the icing. In our scenario, that fourth and final ingredient is making a decision. Making decisions is incredibly fun and easy if we know what we’re doing. But here is an important baking tip: don’t try to put the icing on before the cake is made. You will most likely be disappointed with the result.

Making big decisions is actually easy if you have an exciting goal, know where you are, and understand your priorities and commitments. Choose your next steps based on these four ingredients, and you can step forward in confidence into your destiny.

*Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD.
Praise ye the LORD.*

— Psalm 150:6

What's your worship like? Are you being transformed into the image of God, or conformed to the ways of this world? Psalm 150 reveals that God created us for worship and, it's no wonder when we consider the powerful impact it has. Not only does praising God drive away anxiety, depression, and stress, but it also brings excruciating pain to the devil and wreaks havoc on his lies. Most importantly though, worship helps us connect with and focus on our heavenly Father!

Whether you join us in person or through live stream, Andrew Wommack Ministries and Charis Bible College provide several opportunities for you to participate in worship, including:

- Free Conferences throughout the year

"As I raised my hands, the love of God just washed over me," Johnny says, "and thirty years of abuse, anger, and rage that had been choking me began to fall off."

Worship is so powerful, and thanks to you, our partners, we are able to provide worship experiences that are setting people free. Visit awmi.net/JohnnyRhodes to hear the rest of Johnny's story.

At the end of the day, it all comes back to your relationship with God. As you explore the different worship opportunities that AWM and Charis have made available to you, we encourage you to share them with others. In doing so, you will be sharing the love of God and helping Andrew take the Gospel as far and as deep as possible!
